Embracing COLOUR

A child's bedroom is their domain, a place where they can be the boss and feel free to express themselves. Have fun and experiment with colour on their walls - paint is not permanent so the colour can change over time to reflect each stage of their childhood.

Taubmans has partnered with Interior Designer and Television Presenter, Shayna Blaze to help you find the perfect colour that will transform your home. As a designer and artist, Shayna is passionate about colour and how it can transform a home.

“Colour is one of the leading elements to creating your room's style. Embrace colour and you can take your look in a whole new direction.”

Darker colours may seem an odd choice for a baby's bedroom, but painting the walls in Silver Mink is like wrapping the room in a night blanket, creating a feeling of calm. Use white or neutral furnishings to lighten the space and create a beautiful contrast.

Bold EXPRESSIONS

The tween years are all about making a statement and a bold colour like Sheer Delight shows 'I have arrived'. It also creates a great contrast with the red bed frame and white bedside tables. Let your child choose the accessories so that the room becomes a true reflection of their personality.

→ Cool SHADES

Their body language may say 'don't talk to me', but teen boys always have a lot to say! A cool colour like Grey Granite is perfect for a teenager's room - young and fresh but adult enough to be taken seriously. Keep the palette simple so that their own personal style can do the talking on those 'silent' days.

Use Sentimental on your Ceiling and Trim →

Wonder WALLS

Homework can take up a lot of time for a teen, but it doesn't mean they have to feel trapped. A beautiful shade like Pale Plum on the walls can help stimulate creativity - and when they feel relaxed and inspired, great things will follow!

Use Argos Cream on your Ceiling and Trim
